NEWSY NOTES

The Goodbreads, Tuckers and Mrs. Betty Hickson (Ole Bill's) will attend the Nebraska and Miami game in the Orange Bowl.

Speaking of football, my old Alma Mater tied Yale this past Saturday. The score, 21 to 21.

A good deal of study and thought should be given by the people on the coming referendum on December 8th. Consider the facts and look to the future—and then vote.

In our contacts with people, and we run across plenty during the week, we only hear nice things about Wilton Manors.

The additional 18 holes at the Lauderdale Golf Club opens this Saturday. Everything is free and "on the house." The course is in swell shape and a large crowd of golfers is expected to be on hand.

Paul Smith, of the shoe store on Wilton Drive, tells us that he has had numerous inquiries regarding the custom made sandals which he will have shortly. Just be patient ladies and you will be glad that you waited for those new sandals.

*Your love is like the almond trees in spring
Budded and bloomed and made loveliness.*

For the eyes and fragrance in the warm air.

Your words were flower petals falling softly,

Or honey dripping where the wild bees hide.

*Your mouth against mine
And your arms around me*

Were singing music

And all the beauty Summer can give—

Your love died with autumn

The wind screaming down from the mountains

Has frozen my garden

And scattered brown leaves.

In my heart there is only the cold.

Police Court Notes

Taken from the police records are the following:

A $75.00 fine was levied in Mayor's Court against Clifford Prescott of Ft. Lauderdale, for drunken driving, according to the police. The charge was made by Officer Morris. Chief Beaney also charged the defendant in County Court (pending) on a charge of driving after driver's license was revoked.

Chief Beaney recovered three bags of fertilizer for William Enz of Oakland Park, taken from his farm west of Andrews Avenue in Wilton Manors. No charge was pressed. Chief Beaney worked in conjunction with Chief John Barnhill of Oakland Park and Deputy Sheriff Virgil Wright on the case.

*I thought I knew what true love was,
But I did not,
I did not even start to know
Its power, or what
It meant beyond the joy and pain;
That interchanges with swift

Forever strange.*

With which it makes
Mute glory of the humblest task;
It undertakes.*

Don't forget, folks, Christmas is just around the corner—many of the merchants have the "lay-away" plan. Don't get fouled up—do your shopping early.

It reminds us the Williams Pharmacy, here in the Village has a wonderful selection of Christmas gifts for all members of the family.

The new asphalt floor and rearrangement of Manor Market is a provement. It certainly lends to the establishment. And, boy, oh, boy—people have told us over and over again, what swell bargains they get at Manor Market. By the way, sorry to hear that Frank Starling was laid up with a cold.

Don't forget that the Boy Scouts are still on their paper drive. Just drop off your waste paper at the box, which is located at Manor Market.

Speaking of Christmas—The Village Council has appropriated money to be used for a community Christmas tree at the "park" on Wilton Drive. Rev. Mr. Toms of the Covenant Presbyterian Church has promised us that his choir will be present to sing Christmas carols. We sincerely hope that the residents of the community will decorate their homes and grounds. The Bulletin has received donations for prizes. There will be three awards—one for the best decorated business establishment, one for the best decorated residential grounds, and one for the best decorated doorway or window. Let's all enter into the spirit of Christmas.

Ruby and Puddles welcome their many friends and acquaintances to the Wild Goose Bar, where they have taken over the operation.

Maule Industries Present Their Case To The Public Referendum Vote, Dec. 8th

The electorate of the Village will be asked to vote at the polls on December 8th whether or not they wish to go along "as is" or "progress" and invite industry into the area. The election was first set down for November 30th, but due to the fact that legal requirements needed two publications in the daily newspaper, the election was set ahead to conform with the law.

Maule Industries, one of the most responsible and progressive concerns in South Florida have made application to the Village authorities for permission to erect a plant—on the outermost boundaries of the Village—adjacent to industrial railroad property.

In the event that this application for permission for erection of such a plant is rejected by the electorate, it will only mean that the organization will move a few hundred feet north and erect such a plant in the neighboring municipality of Oakland Park. In a few short years, when taxation will eventually come to Wilton Manors, if the electorate turn this request down, the burden of taxation, in the future, will rest entirely on the home owner. This is something for the retired resident, who operates on a fixed income to consider before casting their vote in the election of December 8th.

In the first issue of the Wilton Manors Bulletin, we voiced our editorial policy. At that time Betty Dickens was publisher and Tom E. Hinds was the Editor. When we took over The Bulletin, on September 6th, we reiterated our editorial policy and we quote the following:

As the new publisher of The Wilton Manors Bulletin, we wish to inform our readers that the editorial policy will continue as heretofore and reprint the editorial of our first issue of May 3, 1951.

It will be the policy of The Bulletin at all times to work in the interest of Wilton Manors, "a wonderful place to live." On political issues, The Bulletin will conduct an independent attitude on all public questions, publishing the truth without fear or favor. The columns of The Bulletin will be open at all times for public use. For, in this manner, true democratic principles will be maintained.

We welcome your cooperation.

THOMAS E. HINDS

Editor and Publisher

In the issue of last week, we voiced our opinion where news was being suppressed by the Government, and only that type of news that those in governmental positions wanted to have released, was disseminated to the public.

To further substantiate our policy we quote from our story in the issue of November 9th of The Bulletin, when the Editors of the State of Florida, protested against the ban of news classifying governmental information.

NEWSPAPER EDITORS PROTEST TRUMAN BAN

"The Florida Daily Newspaper Association, meeting in Daytona Beach voted unanimously to send a protesting letter to President Truman regarding his recent order classifying information in various government agencies. Letters of protest will be sent to each member of the Florida Congressional delegation.

"The association opened with a dinner and board meeting last Friday night.

"The letter approved today said:

"The Florida Daily Newspaper associates notes with great concern the threat to freedom of information posed by your recent censorship regulation."

"The organization stands behind any action which will safeguard the security of the nation. However, the method imposed by you is neither necessary nor practical."

"The experience of the last war under voluntary censorship proved that a voluntary system will work in times of national danger.

"However, the present regulations leave the interpretation to government heads who have neither the background nor capacity for judging what should be restricted . . .

"Under the American system, we believe that all information about the government should be available to all citizens on demand."

This leads up to the application for the Maule Industries for the construction of a plant adjacent to the Florida East Coast Railroad.

In fairness to the principles, which we have set up, we interviewed the Maule representative, Mr. F. K. Foster, general manager. (We are not motivated by monetary consideration as this organization has never been an advertiser in our paper.)

Mr. Foster states: "The Maule Industries is an organization with assets of over $1,000,000 and has been established for over 25 years. Their organization is one of high repute and is one of the largest of its kind in South Florida. Wherever they have set up business they have been welcomed and respected by not only the citizenry, but the businessman."

Mr. Foster pointed out that, contrary to reports, there will be NO cement block plant in the contemplated plant.

He further states that there will be NO rock crushing equipment at the contemplated plant.

At the present time Maule Industries, as pointed out by Mr. Foster, has several plants in operations namely: Miami Beach, Miami and Ojus.

He states that the Miami Beach plant, which is adjacent to a hotel, has never had a complaint as to objections of dust or noise. This plant is approximately 350 yards away from an exclusive island where homes of high cost are erected and to date, no complaints have been received as to noise or dust.

The contemplated plant, on the border of the community, will have

New Postal Service Being Considered

Good news is in store for Wilton Manors residents, according to an announcement made today by Postmaster A. G. Shand. Official word is being awaited from the Postal authorities at Washington for the institution of a "curb line delivery service" on or about December 1st.

This particular service would consist of the placement of the present mail box in front of the home, instead of the "group" placement as in vogue at the present time.

Mr. Shand, who has been working at all times for the betterment of postal service for the Village, further gives hope that if Wilton Manors grows as it has been, it will only be a short period of time before a house to house delivery will be instituted.

NOTICE

In as far as space permits, The Bulletin will be glad to publish any letters received from youngsters who wish to write Santa Claus. Christmas is only a short way off, so you kiddies better get busy and write old St. Nick.

an investment of $150,000 to $200,000 and will provide a payroll of a quarter of a million dollars a year. The employment will be approximately 100 people and of this number only ten percent will be colored.

THE PLANT

The plant itself will be of the most modern construction. All roads in and out of the plant will be of concrete construction. The grounds will be landscaped and will be an asset to the area and not an eyesore.

All cement cars received will be sealed as well as the batcher so that any possibility of dust will be eliminated. When cement is let out of the batcher into a mixer a canvas sleeve is dropped to the truck to insure the elimination of any possible dust. The plant itself will be enclosed by a wall. There will be no Sunday work or noise. The millwork plant is enclosed and dust preventive systems will be installed. The steel fabrication plant has noiseless machine operations.

It was further pointed out that railroad property whether in Wilton Manors, Oakland Park or Kalamazoo was considered industrial property.

Another presentation pointed out by Mr. Foster was the fact that many employees of the company would like to live near their place of employment and would become residents of the community, which would add purchasing power to the area.

It is to be considered by the residents that the time is not too far distant (when any far sighted person can see, taxation will be saddled on the residents)—a modern plant will help to pay considerable taxation, which is bound to come to the Village.

We speak of dust, which seems to be the main argument against the erection of a plant of this nature and which the Maule Industries through their preventive measures promise to eliminate, Mr. Foster adds. Let's in all fairness take into consideration "the beautification of Wilton Drive"—Ask any merchant about the dust since the "beautification" started months ago and which has not been completed.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This story and presentation is written in justice to the policy and principles as outlined in our first editorial: "The Bulletin will conduct an independent attitude on all public questions, publishing the truth without fear or favor. The Columns of The Bulletin will be open at all times for public use. For, in this manner, true Democratic principles will be maintained."

The question remains with the people.

OAKLAND PARK ELECTION TO BE HELD DECEMBER 3

Mayor Dewey Hawkins of Oakland Park, is among the list of seven candidates seeking election in this municipality on December 3rd. Mayor Hawkins is unopposed and is seeking his 13th term.

Three seats on the city council are also to be filled. The three incumbents have qualified for reelection. They are T. C. Moore, C. M. Hunter and J. W. Stevens.

Two other candidates also filed for the seats. They are George S. Goodbread, Jr., and J. M. Foy.

Hawkins stated he wanted to be re-elected to finish the water plant project the city has undertaken. He indicated that if it wasn't for this he probably wouldn't be running again.

A cattleman, Hawkins has been a resident of Oakland Park for more than 30 years and served as commissioner or mayor since 1925 with the exception of two years when he declined to run.

Born in Florida in 1899, he was one of the first settlers of Oakland Park.

He is president of the Broward County Cattlemen's association, a member of the Lions Club, Oakland Park Fire department, Pompano State Farmers' market advisory board and Oakland Park Methodist church.

Hawkins is married and the father of one child and has three grand-children.

Moore is a former city clerk and tax collector and seeks his first full term.

He was appointed to fill a vacancy on the council last year and points out that since the city has undertaken the job of installing a new water system he wants to remain on the council to see the task completed.

He was one of the pioneer residents of Oakland Park, coming here in 1923. He calls for progress and continued municipal improvements.

Moore is married and has no children. He is a member of the Lions club, Masons, Shriners and the Methodist church.

Hunter, in his platform for re-election cites "continued improvements." Coming here in 1936, he is an employe of the Florida Power & Light Co.

The councilman is a Mason, a member of the Lions club and of the Methodist church. Hunter is 45, married and the father of two children.

Stevens, 33, seeks his second term on the council. The operator of a bakery here, he moved to the city in 1946. A veteran of World War II, he is a captain in the U. S. Army reserves.

Stevens is a Mason, a member of the Methodist church, is married and has two children.

Goodbread came here in 1915 and is a native of Florida. He seeks election to the council for the first time. Goodbread, 42, is a member of the Lions club, Woodmen of the World and the Methodist church. He is married and has two children.

Foy, 38, is with the Federal Employment agency, is married and has one child. This is his first campaign for city office.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tucker, city clerk, is unopposed in her race for re-election.

She seeks her third term as town clerk and is a former member of the council.
