BUSINESSMEN ADD FORCES TO 4TH AVENUE PLAN

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Every Floridian is aware of the importance of a healthy citrus industry to all of Florida. Whenever citrus suffers, eventually the whole state feels its depressive effect. Recently a prominent Central Florida Editor wrote me about this problem and suggested we take another look into the possibility of a citrus crop insurance program—somewhat along lines of the present wheat crop insurance, in an effort to help stabilize the citrus industry of Florida.

Yesterday I invited the representatives of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to come to my office to discuss this problem again. Today Mr. Leslie Schock of the FCIC and Mr. Ralph Botts, a former resident of Tampa, and now with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics here in the Department of Agriculture, were kind enough to come to my office, and Byrne Litschgi, my Legislative Assistant, and I had a most pleasant and informative three hours, discussing the problem.

Mr. Schock described the development of the program in Florida, and said "In Orange, Lake and Polk Counties, we offered insurance against citrus losses from freezes and hurricanes in 1950, but to our disappointment, only enough of the growers in Polk County took advantage of this offer to permit us to start operating." He then told us that since that time the insurance had been offered on a County-wide basis in Polk and that so far as he could tell the program in that County has been successful for there has only been one loss ($2,400) and that, strange as it may seem, from hail. There is already over $50,000 in a reserve fund.

I was particularly interested in the details of the plan in Polk County as well as the possibility of an area-wide coverage of citrus against loss from hurricane and cold weather. In response to my question, Mr. Schock said that the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation could offer this type insurance on the same basis as they are now doing in Polk County. However, he said "The growers themselves must want this insurance and if in any one County 200 growers or 1/3 of the producers in the County want to participate, then I think we would be able to provide this kind of assistance."

I found that by "this kind of assistance" he meant that they would cover losses up to $150 per acre. For this coverage FCIC is presently charging a 7% premium,

Wilton-Oakland Chiefs Join In A Get-Tough Policy For School Zones

Police Chiefs Richard Beaney and J. M. Barnhill got together this week and issued a joint statement on school zone traffic. The statement:

We Mean Business.

Barnhill and Beaney pointed out that both Wilton Manors and Oakland Park are now well equipped with school zone markers, and that there is no reason for anyone to be unaware of where they are.

"We are serious where children are concerned," they said, "and we cannot take any excuses from violators."

School Site Selected For November Jamboree

Wilton Manors businessmen and businesswomen agreed Tuesday night to move the site of their mid-November street dance and jamboree from Wilton Drive to the school grounds, assuming that this will meet with the school officials' approval.

Committee Chairman Elmer Ellers said his committee felt that blocking off Wilton Drive would create many problems, both traffic-wise and businesswise.

It is understood that attorneys have cleared up certain legal questions on the scheduled event, and a special meeting of the businessmen's association is expected to be held soon.

which amounts to about $10 per acre. This amount varies with the type of fruit, location of grove, and with the earlier fruit getting a cheaper rate because there is less risk of freeze than is the case when the fruit is on the tree almost all winter. Mr. Botts advised that if there was no loss for a ten-year period, the area concerned would get a 25% reduction in the rate charged for the insurance just as is presently done in the wheat, cotton, tobacco, and other crop insurance plans.

I asked whether this present experimental program with citrus could be extended to the whole state without changing the law and learned that the Crop Insurance Corporation is limited at the present time to experimenting, but that many additional counties could be included in this experimental citrus crop coverage if the growers showed a desire for it. The program seems to be extremely desirable in stabilizing Florida's economy and I assured these men they would hear further from us.

As these men got up to leave, Mr. Schock said: "We are really like insurance salesmen, it is up to the growers themselves. If they want this type of insurance, I believe in time we can provide it for all of them."

Two Florida National Guardsmen will be among nine from the entire nation to enter West Point Military Academy this month.

Important Notice For Oakland Park

Important reminder:

Next Wednesday night, September 24, the Oakland Park city commission will sit as a board of equalization to hear complaints on the new tax rolls.

Any property owner with a protest to register about assessments will have the opportunity to complain at that time.

Engineer Due Here To Study Conflicts On Old Water Pipe

William Crow, Wilton Manors consulting engineer on its water system, is expected here within a few days to act on instructions of the Village Council regarding privately-owned water pipes, according to Water Engineer O. M. Dunton.

Dunton said yesterday that Black and Associates of Gainesville, the Village's engineering firm, have now been advised of the council action of last week.

In that action, councilmen asked the Black firm to appraise all the privately owned pipes and to estimate the cost of replacing the old lines with new and adequate ones.

The aim is a uniform or at least consistent village-wide waterline system, to give everybody adequate pressure and service.

Dunton said he expects the engineers will move promptly on the council's request.

News Is "Good" At The Bob Newtons'

When the telephone rang in the Robert Newton residence at 199 NE 24 St. the other night, they thought it was just the telephone ringing again. They were wrong.

It turned out to be Marine Sgt. W. D. Newton announcing over 3,000 miles of wire that he had just landed back on good American soil after a year of service in Korea.

The sergeant has had four and a half years' active duty, and now expects to be assigned to a post in Miami. He expects to be at home in Wilton Manors with his parents within a very few days.

Welcome back.

McElhattan Tells Lauderdale Group Manors Will Cooperate In Asking For Widening of 4th Ave. to 80 Feet

Paul A. McElhattan of Wilton Manors appeared before a meeting of the Third and Fourth Avenues Association of Ft. Lauderdale a few nights ago to tell the meeting that Wilton Manors is firmly behind a current move to widen NE Fourth Avenue to an 80-foot boulevard with sidewalks. "We are right with you on this, and we will do everything we can to cooperate and coordinate," said McElhattan.

The group is about to petition the city commission in Ft. Lauderdale to get the widening job going; and McElhattan was named by the Wilton Manors Businessmen's Association to meet with them and help to hurry it up.

The Ft. Lauderdale group met at 924 NE Fourth Ave. in the office of Charlie Horn of Wilton Manors. Its idea is to widen Fourth Avenue to 80 feet from the FEC tracks to the Wilton Manors city limits. Future proposal includes crossing the FEC at Third Ave., widening Third Ave. south to and across New river, installing a bridge there.

Later on, widening of Wilton Dr. and extending it through Middle River Estates to Federal Hwy. could open up all sorts of new possibilities for moving traffic, it was pointed out.

As for the immediate plan for Fourth Ave. between Wilton Manors and FEC, Ft. Lauderdale City Attorney Tom Berryhill was quoted as saying there would be no cost to property owners for the paving and sidewalks if right-of-way is donated. Therefore, the group feels it will have little trouble getting that paving job accomplished.

This would give Wilton Manors-Oakland Park residents better access to and from Ft. Lauderdale. And of course, it would also make it easier for Ft. Lauderdale people to come up and shop with us.

Norman S. McEwen, Horn and John Henderson were named as a committee to present the petition to the Ft. Lauderdale city commission, and another meeting of the group was set for October 10.

Manors Kiwanis To Meet Beach Group

Next week's meeting of the Wilton Manors Kiwanis Club will be held at Southside ball park in Ft. Lauderdale, where the local Kiwanis will collide in softball competition with the Beach Kiwanis.

The meeting will be held at 6:15 P.M. Tuesday, and it's understood a chicken dinner will be served.

The Rev. Carl Moberg, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, addressed the Kiwanians last Tuesday at their regular meeting at Tropical Patio.

Young People's Party Set At Community Church

The Rev. Warren W. Yates, new pastor of Oakland Park Community Church, announced this week that there will be a young people's Fellowship party at 8 p. m. Saturday at the pavilion across from the church, 248 NW Second Ave.

The Rev. Mr. Yates came to the church in Oakland Park two weeks ago from Suwannee County.

His topic for next Sunday's sermon will be: "The Sign on the Cross".

New Parking Laws Will Be Enforced, Says Beaney

Beginning immediately, all the new parking regulations in Wilton Manors' new traffic code are going to be enforced, Police Chief Richard Beaney said today.

Beaney explained that the new ordinances adopted by the Village Council cover parking violations quite thoroughly, just as the system works in Ft. Lauderdale. And fines may be assessed against motorists who park improperly.

One thing the chief emphasized: No blocking of traffic control signs or fire hydrants.

Saxer and McElhattan Added To Zoning Board

Charles A. Saxer and Paul A. McElhattan were seated this week as new members of the Wilton Manors zoning board.

A proposed subdivision of property facing the south side of Wilton Drive was tabled, pending certain alterations in the proposal.

The board expressed belief that alleyways should be provided for on the property involved.

Covenant Presbyterian Kindergarten Is Opened

Covenant Presbyterian Church began its first annual kindergarten on Monday, September 15. The kindergarten is under the direction of Mrs. Russell D. Toms. Sessions are now in progress Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 AM, and new enrollments are being made daily. According to the pastor, this is the beginning of what is planned to develop into a larger program for this church in the field of elementary education with a Christian emphasis.

He is Frank Kohrs, of the Carter Construction Co.

Kohrs was inducted and presented with his Kiwanian's pin by Mac McGuire.

EVENTUALLY -- WHY NOT NOW?

"Eventually—why not now?" is an old advertising slogan.

It seems to express a pretty good way to feel about the proposed widening of NE 4th Ave. from the FEC railway tracks north to Wilton Manors.

As you no doubt have observed, Ft. Lauderdale's city commission will be petitioned right away to take on this project, widening the main artery between the Manors and the big city to 80 feet, with sidewalks.

Widening Wilton Drive and extending it over to the Federal Hwy. will then someday give all our people a virtual "straight shoot" in either direction they may want to go.

It takes no crystal ball work to say the businessmen's association was on the ball in arranging to coordinate its efforts along these lines with those of the group in Ft. Lauderdale that's pushing for the NE 4th Ave. work.

Question: What do you consider to be the one thing your community needs most?

Well, Mrs. N. Overbeck, 171 W. Oakland Blvd., Oakland Park, thinks her community is sadly in need of a new Post Office building. Mrs. Overbeck says she considers the present post office very inadequate. "but the postal authorities don't seem to agree", she added.

Mrs. Victor Vonn, 305 N.E. 25th Street, Wilton Manors, says that the streets should be repaired and kept cleaner. Mrs. Vonn also thinks the entrance to Wilton Manors on 4th Ave. could be beautified so that people coming into town will have a better impression of the Village.

In the opinion of John Lyons, 135 N.W. 2nd Street, Oakland Park, the transit service could be improved. Mr. Lyons says as it is now we have a bus every hour, and he is dissatisfied with such service.

Mrs. Reginald Merwin, 2548 N.E. 9 Ave., Wilton Manors, says that we must have a playgrounds for our children to play on. Mrs. Merwin pointed out there is virtually no place for them to go skating or play games for which a playground is needed.

Thomas C. Moore, 143 S. Dixie Hwy., Oakland Park, says I would like to see the completion and improvement of all streets and avenues.

Mrs. Vonn is joined in her idea on the approach to the Village by Mrs. Norman Malcolm, 2310 NE 5th Ave., Wilton Manors. Mrs. Malcolm would like to see the approaches beautified, landscaped and improved by the Village, or the county, or any organization that would take on the work as a community project.

Strictly Business

New residents of Wilton Manors include Mr. and Mrs. Authiol L. Fountree, who bought from Broliar at 2810 NE Second Ave. . . . so did Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Girl Scouts Receive Swimming Instruction

By Barbara Halliday

The Girl Scouts of Troop 43 had their regular meeting on September 13. The Flag ceremony was conducted for this meeting by the Camper Patrol. The girls next sang some new songs under the direction of Mrs. Bryan Davis on the "singing stairs".

Next, the girls retired to their respective patrols.

This week it was the Foresters and Campers turn to have swimming instructions by Mrs. W. B. Miller. The Sailor Patrol tied knots and learned to lash.

Our special guest was Mrs. Juanita Billie, who talked to us about the outdoor life of a Seminole.

The Sailors were the hostesses and KP duty was left to the Foresters. Carlene Giesler and Bonnie Jennings set up a work schedule for the troop.

Hawkins Proudly Claims Crackerism And What's More, He Can Prove It

"If there is any such thing as a Cracker, then I guess I'm it." So says J. Dewey Hawkins of Oakland Park, and he can pretty well prove it, too. Dewey Hawkins is also, apparently, a dadgum good politician; he has been mayor of Oakland Park ever since 1926, except for one two-year term when he did not choose to run. Some people say he isn't a bad businessman, either. He came to Oakland Park broke in 1922, had $250,000 by 1925, was broke again with the rest in 1926. But he stayed and stuck it out, and today people will tell you that he "ain't hurtin'".

Big, florid Dewey Hawkins is truly a Cracker. He has Florida land grants to his family signed by President Buchanan; still owns a house built in 1820 up in Suwannee County, not far south of the Georgia-Florida line. He was born there December 17, 1899.

At Live Oak in 1919, he married Ruby Wiggins and started making his serious plans for the future.

Together, they made so many solid friends that hundreds of grown men and women today still greet them as "Uncle Dewey" and "Aunt Ruby".

In the days when Uncle Dewey and Aunt Ruby first came to South Florida, Oakland Park was known as "Floranada", and at the age of 25, Dewey Hawkins became the only local member of its city commission.

The mayor was James H. R. Cromwell, who made his fame serving the U. S. diplomatic service and marrying rich women, like Dolphine Dodge and Doris Duke.

Floranada was his big boom development and in those days there was the great wealth of the Dodges and the Stotesburys to pour into it prior to the big bust.

MAYOR DEWEY HAWKINS

After losing his own quarter-million in 1926, the Hawkinses sometimes had a tough row to hoe, but he kept on farming and eventually made it back, and then some.

His primary interest now, aside from Oakland Park as a community, is cattle. Starting with one cow and one calf in 1938, he now owns perhaps 3,000 head in the county, worth a sum not far short of half a million dollars. He owns 38 of the Texas King Ranch's prized Santa Gertrudis bulls, and is constantly improving his herd.

Oakland Park was free of debt until 1951 when it issued $220,000 in bonds to build its water system, and Hawkins considers the debt-free record his number one accomplishment.

If you ask him about his chief ambition for the future, he says: "Building a city of homes where people can live well without undue tax burdens."

"People have been mighty good to me out here," he adds, "and all I can do is give them my best."

Mayor Hawkins believes he will see the day when Oakland Park is the approximate center of one big city stretching from Miami to Palm Beach.

Ask him about the toughest battle he ever fought, and he will laugh and say:

"The mosquitoes."

Children's Corner

(Editor's Note—We are all interested in news of the schools our children are attending; so from time to time we will ask our elementary school principals, Mrs. Lucille Waters and W. Bryan Davis, for a guest column like the one below.)

By W. Bryan Davis

School opened last week for some 300 boys and girls who have entered the Wilton Manors school. One year ago this month this school was born. 183 pupils were enrolled the first week of school last year, and the number kept increasing until at the end of the sixth month 246 were in attendance in the six grades.

We are happy to announce that on Monday of this week the Ft. Lauderdale YMCA started the organization of two Gra-Y Clubs in our Sixth Grades. There will be one Club for the girls and one for the boys. They will meet each Monday morning at 8:45 for a program conducted by the YMCA representatives. We feel that this work is worthwhile, and are glad to welcome the Club into our school.

The School Safety Patrol is being organized this week. The teacher-sponsors are, Mr. Geo. Robinson and Mrs. Ina Tresca, our Sixth Grade teachers. The members of the patrol are selected from the Sixth Grade.

Miss Sondra James of Wilton Manors Weds R.K. Crutcher

Miss Sondra James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. James of Wilton Manors, last Friday night became the bride of R. Keith Crutcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Crutcher of Miami. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Kercher of Nazarene Church in the home of the bride's parents at 2118 NE Fifth Ave.

The bride was attired in white suit with pink and navy accessories, and her flowers were talisman rosebuds. The bride's attendant was her sister, Miss Sue James, who wore a black crepe dress with short white bolero.

Mr. Crutcher was attended by the bride's brother, Ronald James.

The ceremony was performed before a rose-decorated arch.

Following the cutting of the cake by the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Crutcher left on a honeymoon trip through Central and North Florida.

Mrs. James, mother of the bride, wore aqua flowered silk with accessories of black.

On Thursday night, Miss James had been honored with a surprise miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Arden Haddix and Miss Sue James at the James residence.

Games were played and refreshments were served in the pink-and-white decorated home.
