NEW OAKLAND PARK ELECTION SET FOR JANUARY

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Washington:— (Dictated from Somewhere in Florida:) In my visiting around the state I have found that people confidently expect the near future to bring some relief to the taxpayers with regard to the burdens of government. Those to whom I have talked about my own hopes for revising and adjusting the tax load have proved enthusiastic conversationalists on the subject.

As everyone recognizes, the policies of the incoming Administration will to a large extent dictate the type of tax program which the Congress will have to adopt but there are a great many detailed aspects of any new tax legislation upon which the individual member of Congress can make an imprint. There are two aspects to the tax program which have a major impact upon the American home which I hope to see improved and I will introduce legislation (1) to make it possible for a working mother to charge as business expense the cost of nursing and similar home-making costs which are peculiar to the independent working mother and (2) to revise the formula for deducting from taxable income medical expenses. I do not think the present formula gives a fair and proportionate consideration to these unusual costs which weigh so heavily upon so many families. I am already having bills drawn to cover the aforementioned subjects and I expect to be active on the floor when a new tax bill comes before the Senate for consideration.

NOTES FROM HERE AND THERE: Had a very flattering civic club crowd at Daytona Beach the other day (thanks to such good friends as Chick Riegle, Bill Moesser and Sax Lloyd) and afterwards enjoyed a visit with Herbert Davidson, Editor of the Daytona Beach News Journal, although I was not particularly surprised to see that his paper didn't give any space to my speech there whereas May Horner's Deland Sun News gave it unusually generous coverage. . . . At Deland, enjoyed visits with my old friends, Carl Reynolds, John O'Neill and Max Acree; found plenty of spirit in the football squad where I had a brief workout under the direction of my old friend Jay Patee and Assistant Coach Johnson the former star quarterback whom I had recommended to the Washington Redskins

Manors Council Orders Fire Prevention Move

Wilton Manors Village Council Tuesday night ordered an ordinance drawn to help prevent fire disaster in the Village, and ordered that a committee be named to visit locations where a disaster could conceivably occur.

The issue was brought up by Police Chief Richard Beaney, who pointed out that special hazards do exist in a few places within the Village limits.

"Our fire department," he said, "should know exactly what fire prevention measures are taken, and the location of all extinguishers and equipment."

Beaney had special reference to a nursing home and other places which should have frequent inspection.

DUNTON WARNS OF LAWS AGAINST METER TAMPERING

Wilton Manors Village Engineer O. M. Dunton said this week that there have been instances recently where the water department has turned meters off only to later find them turned on again by unauthorized persons.

Only water department or police representatives, he said, are authorized to tamper with meters and tampering by other persons is a violation of law.

Brown, Dunton Swap Jibes In Confab

A sharp exchange of acid remarks between Wilton Manors Councilman J. Marvin Brown and Village Engineer O. M. Dunton featured a discussion of water department income and expenses during a meeting of the Council Tuesday night. Brown declared that maintenance costs in the water department had been "out of reason", and cited costs of nearly $800 during October.

Dunton replied that his figures didn't agree with those Brown quoted, and Councilman James S. Dean commented that if the water system cannot be put on a money-making basis, maybe one of the councilmen will have to take over its operation "for nothing".

The heated words between Brown and Dunton followed when Brown observed that no councilman could take the job.

"But they can all tell me how to run it," declared Dunton.

"That is what we are here for, Mr. Dunton," Brown shot back.

The heated words followed a lengthy discussion of the department's operating losses, featured by the application of P. J. Brodin for the position of supervisor. Brodin offered to handle virtually all the jobs connected with the department for $250 a month, and listed qualifications.

Other features of the discussion included:

Instructions to Clerk Marcia Stafford to write consulting engineers Black and Associates of Gainesville demanding a report on what operational expenses should be in the Village.

A statement by Brown that

Children's Holiday Starts Next Friday

The boys and girls of Wilton Manors and Oakland Park will join those of all Broward County next weekend in beginning a long, pleasant Christmas season holiday.

School officials announced that the schools will close their doors on the afternoon of Friday, December 19, and won't open up again until Monday, January 5th.

That means the children will have two full weeks including three weekends in which to enjoy the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Richardson Observe 52nd Anniversary

The Earl R. Gurney residence at 2221 NE Ninth Ave. was the scene of festivities last Sunday. Mrs. Gurney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Richardson, were celebrating their 52nd wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were married on December 7, 1900, at Newburyport, Mass.

A number of friends and neighbors called at the Gurney home Sunday afternoon to pay respects.

Long Range Study Group to be Named

A special "long-range planning board" to continually study changing conditions and advise the zoning board and Village Council on future development may be appointed by the Council.

Such a board was recommended Tuesday by Councilman Earl R. Gurney, who declared in a letter read to the Council that the phenomenal growth and expansion of the area makes an advisory group highly desirable.

Councilman James C. Dean agreed it was "a very good idea," and on motion of Councilman J. Marvin Brown, the Council concurred.

Membership of the advisory board will be considered at the next meeting of the Council.

The Council also: Passed a bicycle licensing and regulating ordinance on final reading.

Passed on final reading the new zoning ordinance.

Agreed to change the telephone listing of the police department to include the fire department.

Approved purchase of uniforms for new Police Patrolman James Carrie.

Agreed to furnish water for sprinkling the parkway into Brolliar project at NE 26 St. and Second Ave., with residents providing the sprinkling system.

Agreed to furnish water for sprinkling the parkway into Brolliar project at NE 26 St. and Second Ave., with residents providing the sprinkling system.

Police said some merchants have timing switches which automatically cut off inside lights late at night, increasing the possibility of thieves carrying out successful burglaries.

Books Will Be Reopened On Saturday For City Council Contest Next Month

A new election in Oakland Park to choose one city council member will be held sometime during the month of January. That was the disclosure this week by Oakland Park City Clerk Elizabeth Tucker. Necessity for the new balloting was brought about through misunderstandings that resulted from the disqualification of at least one of the candidates in last week's election.

So, here's the way things stand today, in capsule form:

Councilman Colley White, whose name was checked by almost two-thirds of those who went to the polls last week, has been officially elected to another term on the board and the mixup over the candidates won't affect him.

Richard Marthens, who ran second to White last week but was disqualified, is expected to qualify and run again next month. Marthens was disqualified because he was not registered as a voter within the City of Oakland Park, although he was registered in the

MAYOR DEWEY HAWKINS . . . to set election date

County.

The other three candidates in last week's election — Gene Delegal, Henry Williams and William Hasenour — probably will run again, too, in an effort to capture the one seat that will be vacant.

Furthermore, there are reports that additional contenders will be in the running next month.

One rumor, unconfirmed but reportedly based on fact, said there will be at least one woman entering the race for Council.

The voters' registration books will re-open on Saturday of this week, so it is probable that a heavier turnout may ensue next month.

Exact date of the new election has not been officially confirmed, but it probably will be about January 12.

Mayor Dewey Hawkins will issue a proclamation setting the date.

Gurney Says Street Holes Are Soon To Be Repaired

D. R. Eyman, 2626 NE Second Ave., appeared before the Wilton Manors Village Council Tuesday night to ask what may be done about large holes washed in the pavement of streets in the Brolliar homes section.

Councilman Earl R. Gurney replied that he already had contacted the contractor who built the streets and expressed belief that the roadways will be repaired "very soon."

Gurney said the contractor indicated willingness to cooperate in correcting the condition at no expense to the Village.

Daughter Born To Williamses

Mr. and Mrs. Loran O. Williams, 2717 NE Sixth Lane, Wilton Manors, are the parents of a daughter born November 19. The baby, who weighed six lbs., 10 oz., has been named Carol Yvonne.

Mrs. Powell's Father Dies at Maryland Home

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powell of Oakland Park were called to Hagerstown, Md., due to the death of Mrs. Powell's father, Mr. Springer. Mr. Springer was well known in Oakland Park. In recent years, he had been a frequent visitor here during the winter.

Leave Lights On, Cops Ask

Wilton Manors Police Department has asked for cooperation of merchants in preventing nighttime burglaries by leaving night lights burning inside store buildings and shops.

"FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY"

EDITORIALS

Call It Manors

There is nothing that gives the human system such a release as letting off steam over a pet peeve, especially when one's choice gripe can be given wide circulation. There is nothing quite like having access to a newspaper column to achieve this, and that is why it appears sometimes that all editors are sourpusses.

Our own five-bell peeve is: people who misspell or mispronounce our own name, or our paper's name, or our Village's name. Today, we take up the matter of the Village's name.

It is: Wilton Manors. Not Wilton Manor but Wilton Manors.

And it has always been thus, so far as we can determine.

But people in neighboring communities, and even some within the Village, persist in dropping that "s".

Now, we ought to be proud enough of our community to learn and properly speak its name.

It might interest newcomers to know how the Village was named.

Mayor Perry Mickel, an authority on Manors lore, says it was subdivided and dubbed Wilton Manors in late 1925 or early 1926, by E. J. Willingham, its original developer.

Willingham's wife's maiden name was Wilton, an old family name in Georgia.

Decorate If Possible

Allow us to call your attention to one of the most imaginative and decorative Christmas displays we ever saw, at the Starling residence at NE 26 St. and Sixth Avenue.

Seen through a picture window on the 26 St. side of the home, its simplicity and beauty are striking and deserve recognition.

No doubt this lovely scene will be commented upon by hundreds.

We hope all who can will help reflect credit on the Yuletide spirit of Wilton Manors and Oakland Park and enhance the beauty of the communities.

ON THE TOWN

Notes and comment for Christmas shoppers and revelers: The Tropical Club's dining room in Wilton Manors is reopening, as you'll note through the announcement on Page 4, and Jack and Judy Storm have promised wonderful repasts to delight the most fastidious gourmet . . . another way of saying that if you're hungry and know good food, there it is . . . we should like to call your attention to some honestly fine values we have seen at Wilton Manors Furniture Co. You might ask Elmer Elfers about the particular items he has set aside for Christmas specials, good opportunities for those of us who are furnishing homes, step by step . . . Sincere congratulations to Steve Sharrow at Manor Hardware and Hobbycraft for his toy displays and the big Santa Claus we mentioned once before . . . speaking of displays, see the editorial column for a private one all should see . . . You'll be missing something if you fail to hear the Paderewskis, Kay, George and Jan, on East Las Olas in Ft. Lauderdale . . . they're old friends of ours and we think they are the outstanding entertainers in the entire area . . . there's a story behind them, descendants of the late Ignace Jan Paderewski, father of the Polish Republic and perhaps the greatest pianist who ever lived . . . in Oakland Park. Joe Jackson has stocked an excellent line of Christmas cards and some nice gifts . . . and you will be surprised how much shopping you can get done at Bob Moore's jewelry shop in Williams Pharmacy, which he has just expanded . . . we're tipping our readers to easy and economical shopping. Hope it is of help to you.

The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light. (Isaiah 60:19.)
Read Isaiah 60:18-22.

After the sun had gone down in all its glory, a small, black cloud appeared. It was a fast traveling cloud, so fast that trees were uprooted, houses picked up and set in new locations, others shattered and pieces scattered for many miles. Bodies of the dead and dying and other injured were found here and there. There were no lights. What a night of darkness, terror, and loss!

A messenger made his way to the nearest town, and help was sent. Everything was done for the suffering that could be done by candle and lantern light. The morning light had a new meaning for those who had experienced the night of horror.

The destructive power of the tornado in the village may be likened to the ruin, loss, and suffering which sin causes. It plunges into the blackness of spiritual light. Only the Redeemer can restore us. In His presence we have an everlasting light.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY UNVEILING SATURDAY ON WILTON DRIVE

The Wilton Manors Christmas display in the triangle at Wilton Drive and NE Fifth Ave. will be formally unveiled and dedicated at 8 p. m., according to Frank W. Hainey, president of the civic association which is sponsoring the display.

Most Village residents have seen the display in various stages of construction; but not until lights are mounted and turned on can the true beauty of the scene be appreciated.

It probably will be the outstanding Christmas display in Broward County and thousands of visitors from all parts of the county are expected to view it.

One of the two scenes in the display is some 30 feet in length, and the other more than 20 feet.

They will be the feature attractions in Wilton Manors each year during the Yuletide season.

Girl Scouts Practicing Yule Pageant Next Week

Wilton Manors Girl Scouts of Troop 43 are practicing and rehearsing for their Christmas pageant scheduled for next weekend, according to a statement by Troop Leader Mrs. Robert L. Newton.

The pageant will be staged in front of the Newton home at 199 NE 24 St. at 8 o'clock on Saturday night, December 20, Mrs. Newton said.

The public, of course, is invited and urged to attend and watch the Yuletide spectacle.

Ambitious arrangements are being made for music and lighting for the pageant and, Mrs. Newton said, "The girls have their hearts in it."

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

You have probably noticed the new slogan "Target 187" that has been featured in many newspapers, on stickers and in other ways. This curious emblem has an important message for you and every other citizen of Florida. Statisticians who make a business of keeping a close tab on traffic fatalities in the state estimate that, on the basis of past experience and record, between Nov. 20, 1952 and Jan. 1, 1953, unless you and me and a lot of other folks wake up and do something about it 187 people will lose their lives in traffic accidents.

That isn't a very pleasant thought, is it? Of course, like everybody else you figure that the statisticians are talking about somebody else. Accidents, you assume, are something that only happen to other people. Morgues and hospitals are full of folks who reasoned the same way.

To build up the statewide interest in safety in the Florida Citizens Safety Council has distributed a half million of these warning stickers and the newspapers of the state are cooperating and publishing the emblem and slogan in their papers.

It suggests that you ask your law enforcement officers what "Target 187" means. They will tell you right quick, for in the line of duty they have seen the victims of automobile accidents breathe their last on the way to the hospital or on the highway.

If you don't think that number 187 means anything stop a minute and picture the situation in the 187 homes of these potential victims. With Christmas just around the corner it isn't going to help the enjoyment of the holiday season if the life of mother or dad, sister or brother, is snuffed out.

In addition to the heartbreak are doctor and hospital bills plus funeral expenses. The whole life of the family have to be readjusted. Christmas gaiety will be gone. Tears will replace laughter.

Most accidents are avoidable. Some individual like you or me is usually to blame. We were in a hurry. We didn't stop to look. It was a wonderful party and we took one for the road. We knew our brakes were defective but hadn't had time to have them fixed. There are a thousand and one excuses but none of them will help after the damage is done.

WILTON MANORS MERCHANT IS INJURED IN COLLISION

Mrs. Bernadette Chapman, owner of the Manor Men's Store in Wilton Manors, was painfully injured in a collision between her automobile and another car early Sunday in Ft. Lauderdale.

Mrs. Chapman was treated at Broward General hospital for facial abrasions, but did not require hospitalization, and was able to resume her duties Monday.

The accident occurred at S. Andrews Ave. and 17th St. in Ft. Lauderdale when her car collided with another driven by a 27-year-old Hollywood negro.

Damage to Mrs. Chapman's car was estimated at $500.
