Our Own Homogenized

Hot Air REPORT FROM TALLAHASSEE

By Carter Holmes

Well, as they say about Eisenhower after he's been to Augusta playing the duffer, the editor and the business manager of The Sun are "rested and refreshed", after a five-day trip over the west coast of Florida, up to Tallahassee and Georgia and back down the east coast. Florida's capital city, as we expected, was very beautiful as is usual at this time of year but also very hot.

We wouldn't swap.

As we arrived in the capital, the Senate was in the throes of a fierce battle over the so-called racing dates bill. The bill to give Gulfstream Park some of Hialeah's juicy mid-season racing dates was up for reconsideration. . . and for the second time, as you know, it wound up in a tie.

* * *

In the House chamber, where we spent most of our time in the capitol building, the fight was over the proposed $10,000,000 state mental hospital to be erected somewhere in southeast Florida. As we write, the final decision has not been made. But Broward County has a better-than-even chance to get it, we would say. Okeechobee County, however, won't give up without a struggle.

* * *

A bit of hilarity occurred Monday morning when Okeechobee's bill to get the hospital was up for discussion. Rep. John Burwell of Broward, of course, is fighting that bill and he and Rep. Ted David have their bill, which would place it near the center of population of Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties. Several legislators were on their feet at one point, and Speaker Farris Bryant of Ocala was inquiring for what purpose the gentlemen rose. When he got to Burwell and asked "for what purpose does the gentleman from Broward rise?", Burwell cleared his throat quickly and declared, "Why, I rise to look after my bill!" It brought down the House.

* * *

In the Governor's office, we saw John McCarthy, brother of Dan, but hardly got a chance to speak to him. We were distressed to learn, though, that Dan hasn't even set foot in the office since his heart attack. Those in the know do say, however, that he is recuperating properly and probably will be back in the saddle at least part of every day by the end of next month. Dan was sicker than many people realized. That much was evident.

* * *

We enjoyed seeing the McCarty children playing on the lawn around the governor's mansion. But we were disgusted at the rundown and shabby condition of the old place. Chimneys about to fall down, paint peeling off, it looked like an old boarding house except for the beautiful grounds surrounding the mansion. There's a $250,000 figure in the list of probable appropriations for a new mansion, and none too soon. No wonder Fuller Warren called it the "state shack."

We couldn't close this report without mentioning some of the other things we saw along the way (for once we took time to see some sights). The magnificent old Ringling estate, built by the late John and Mable Ringling at Sarasota and finished in 1926. Poor Mable, a beautiful woman, lived only a couple of years to enjoy it, before she died at 54. John lived until 1936 and the place was closed for 10 years after that.

* * *

Most amazing things noted were the enormous pipe organ in the Great Hall and the DOORS in the place. John Ringling was eccentric about two things: Clocks, and doors. Most builders build a house and then fit in the doors. Ringling collected doors from the far corners of the earth, and built this enormous 15-bedroom mansion around the doors. And the furnishings certainly are among the most exquisite anywhere; some of the furniture hundreds of years old.

* * *

Then there Homosassa Springs on the west coast, where you go beneath the water to watch channel catfish, gar, snook and bream at play.

* * *

And others too numerous to go into detail about. I've talked enough. But believe me, Florida is a travelers' paradise, indeed.

5 Schoolboy Patrol Members Off On Trip To Nation's Capital

Five boys and girls—three from Wilton Manors School and two from Oakland Park School—boarded a special streamliner train at Ft. Lauderdale Thursday for a thrilling trip that promises to be one of the highest experiences of their lives.

The five boys and girls, all fifth and sixth grade students, are Dixie Joyner and Shirley Peterson of Oakland Park, and Jimmy Tamburrino, Gary Palma-teer and Mary Smith of Wilton Manors.

The trip is the annual junket to Washington, D. C., sponsored by the American Automobile Associations, local police departments and schools throughout the country.

Those who are selected to make the trip are all members of the Schoolboy Patrol, carefully chosen for merit.

The special train will take them to Washington where they will be entertained, shown all the sights of the capital and presented to various dignitaries and high officials. They return Sunday.

Oakland Park Women Hold May Breakfast

Mrs. H. C. Dew, head of the Oakland Park Womans Club, presided last Wednesday morning at the annual May breakfast of the Womans Club held at the Central Park Restaurant.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Anna L. Bock, whose subject was "Friendship House", her 21 room home for the aged in Pine Ridge section of Broward County. Her assistance to and love for the oldsters was an inspiration for younger folks to help in every possible way in this worthwhile project.

Mrs. Dew and Mrs. A. Mann presented reports on the Florida State Federation of Womens Clubs convention held recently in Miami.

Mrs. A. J. Porter and Mrs. Charles Krassy reported on the work accomplished for the Seminole Indians at their sewing classes.

Mrs. Dew also reported on plans for the new club house to be started later in the summer.

Mrs. E. Smith announced a silver tea will be held at the club house May 20 at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Elise Franz was presented a lovely necklace and earring set in honor of Mother's Day, for being the oldest mother attending.

Beautiful floral pieces decorated the tables and guests played cards following the luncheon meeting.

Arrangement committee members were Mrs. C. R. Cone, Mrs. Harry K. Powell, Mrs. H. Teel, Mrs. A. Ensminger, Mrs. W. A. Ryan and Mrs. W. Anglin.

Past Presidents Of Womans Club Honored

The Womans Club of Wilton Manors held an Anniversary Tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Morey, honoring its past presidents, current president, and the president of the Broward County Federation of Womans Clubs, Mrs. Carl King.

Mrs. Z. H. Pilcher Sr. and Mrs. Maby Thomas, past presidents, and Mrs. Clayton R. Leaver, who now heads the organization, were the local club members honored.

Mrs. Sidney Sandler, historian, commented on the highlights of the club's activities from the time it was founded four years ago.

Highlights of the recent Federation convention were given by Mrs. Leaver, Mrs. E. R. Sargent, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. W. J. Robinson, Mrs. Frank Tamburrino and Mrs. Morey. Mrs. Tamburrino presented a skit called "The Mystery of the Jewels", based on the experiences of the club delegates at the convention.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Leaver, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. John Mullock, Mrs. Tamburrino and Mrs. Dave Turner.

Mrs. Marshall Caro had charge of the guest book, and Mrs. H. C. Cain had charge of the May Basket. Mrs. Mullock and Mrs. Morey presided at the tea table.

The home of Mrs. Morey was

Burwell Says He's Ready To Introduce Manors Charter In May

Rep. John S. Burwell told The Sun early this week that he is ready to introduce in the legislature at Tallahassee the new Wilton Manors city charter, expected to get final approval from the Village Council at its next meeting. Burwell said the legislature will be "swamped" with local legislation in its closing weeks. "But we'll be ready to handle the Wilton Manors charter," he added.

Undergoes Surgery

EARLE L. MIDDLETON, president of Wilton Manors Village Council, was reported recovering rapidly this week following surgery. The council president was in Broward General Hospital. It was not known immediately when Middleton would be able to return to his seat at the council table.

Village Attorney W. G. Miller Jr. had sent word to Reps. Burwell and Ted David, of the Broward County delegation in the house of representatives, that he expects to deliver the charter bill to them personally "about May 19 or 20."

Councilmen, at a meeting last Tuesday night, continued their discussions on the details of the charter, which includes a strict limitation on the rate of taxes that may be levied in the future.

But it was not expected that final approval could be given until next week's regular meeting of the board.

The charter will include a 7-mill limit on future taxation, and a provision that no taxes on property whatsoever may be levied without an approving referendum.

Oakland Park Schoolboy Suffers Concussion

Nine-year-old Danny Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Keith, suffered a slight brain concussion at school Wednesday during a game of "dodge ball". But Mrs. Lucille Waters, principal of Oakland Park School reported Thursday that Danny is recovering nicely and is expected back in school by Monday.

During the game, Danny reportedly bumped heads accidentally with Marvin Alley, 9, but apparently neither was hurt and the youngsters did not report the incident.

Later, however, when the Keith youngster complained of aching eyes, he was taken to a doctor who made the concussion diagnosis. Danny spent Wednesday night in the hospital under an oxygen tent, but was reported "OK" Thursday.

Village Council Approves Zoning

Zoning of property along the Florida East Coast railway tracks, south of NE 26 St., to the new designation of I-1, was approved by the Wilton Manors Village Council at a public hearing held in connection with a special council meeting Tuesday night.

The re-zoning was requested by William Turner. It is understood Turner will locate his business firm, Turner Supply Co., in Wilton Manors, moving here from its present location in downtown Ft. Lauderdale.

Councilmen also: Approved purchase of 800 feet of fire hose for the Wilton Manors Volunteer Fire Department. Approved a pay increase for Village Clerk Marcia Stafford, to $100 monthly.

Annexation In Hands Of Supreme Court, Hawkins Tells Group

A hearing before the State Supreme Court scheduled for May 19 forestalls any immediate action of any kind on the part of Oakland Park towards its efforts to annex parts of the Galt property and obtain a beach.

That, in a nutshell, was the statement of Mayor Dewey Hawkins to a group of citizens appearing before the council Wednesday night.

The hearing before the high tribunal concerns one of the lawsuits pending in connection with the battle over the property. Oakland Park has appealed to the high court a decision by Circuit Judge Lamar Warren ruling against a legislative act annexing the property to Oakland Park.

The group of citizens headed by Mrs. F. D. Sheldon which appeared before the council Wednesday night protested against any move to compromise the issue with Ft. Lauderdale, which also wants to annex the land.

"FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY"

CHIEF BEANEY

A man well liked by everyone,
The children like him, too,
Even if they've done what's wrong,
And should have to atone.
He's fair in all his dealings
With the public; he belongs
In the highest place of honor
Of this town, its counsellor.
If you're speeding on the highway,
He will caution you and say,
Next time you must be careful
For our laws you must obey;
So the lives of all our children
Will be safe, to roam and play.

Barbara Alice Clark Honored On Birthday

Saturday evening, May 2 was the occasion for a gay and festive affair celebrating the 13th birthday anniversary of Barbara Alice Clark, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Y. Clark Sr. of Wilton Manors.

The party was held at the colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, North Andrews Ave. and 25th St.

Palm trees on the property were illuminated with colored lights, the spacious columned front porch was lighted and festooned with crepe paper in pink, green and white streamers, giving the appearance of old colonial grandeur in a tropical setting. The same color scheme was carried out in the large hallway and in the living room.

In the dining room on an eight-foot long Old English mahogany table were two large birthday cakes surrounded with small baskets of candy and favors for the guests, such as hats and little horns.

The evening was spent in games and dancing, with refreshments including ice cream, cake and cold drinks served throughout the evening.

The guests included many of the honoree's school mates at Naval Air Station junior high school and other friends.

Among those attending were Nancy Hicks, Bob Maher, Ginger Collier, Buzz Kane, Donna Lang, Robert Kant, Sandy Wheeler, Frank Miller, Dick Bunting, Grady Lockhart, Carolyn Reeves, Elwell Clark, David Carter, Bruce Howell, Sylvia Bougher, Bob Lowe, Brownette Robertson.

Crackdown Ordered On Oakland Park Parking

Oakland Park city council Wednesday night instructed Police Chief John M. Barnhill to undertake a strict drive against improper parking in the city, with special emphasis on motorists who park on the wrong side of the street.

Officials implied that warnings will be issued for the next few days, with arrests to follow very soon.

"Absolutely no parking will be permitted on the wrong side of the streets; motorists will be required to park properly on the right side of the street in the direction in which they are heading," Barnhill declared.
