WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

From

George Matthews
U.S. SENATOR

WASHINGTON — After seven years of supporting this nation's foreign aid program and voting billions for aid to our neighbors across the seas, I'm now changing. No longer will I vote for blanket support of large sums for these foreign countries. While much good has been accomplished under the Marshall Plan and related, and succeeding programs, it's obvious that all the countries to which we have given generously are not responding—either in friendship or appreciation, or even economically as we had a right to expect.

Therefore I favor a more selective program of aid, the elimination from the program of those countries which have not been pulling their oars in the mutual security program, and the reduction of aid to those which have been dragging their feet. I have sought to increase the program for Latin America, our "Good Neighbors" in this hemisphere, our indispensable allies who under the program which came to Congress, would receive only three-fourths of one per cent of the five-billion-dollar program envisioned by this administration.

AID TO HOME BUILDING. In an eleventh-hour rush, Congress finally passed and President Eisenhower approved just before midnight June 30, a revised extension of the Housing Act and various agencies operating under Housing and Home Finance Agency. This measure will ease housing restrictions which had been particularly troublesome to builders in Florida, will permit resumption of the veterans housing program, and will, through the more generous down payment provisions and mortgage authorizations, bring homes within the reach of many who are now being forced to rent. It also will help to stabilize the building trades.

"THANK YOU LETTER"—"I believe you have also placed the business people of this community deeply in your debt. As you are well aware, a great deal of its summer prosperity is dependent upon a tremendous influx of Cuban tourists who spend very freely in our stores, hotels, restaurants, and other business establishments."

The above is a brief excerpt from a letter, written by a constituent in South Florida with regard to the new U. S.—Cuban agreement on interchange of travel courtesies. Along with some Congressman I had taken up with the State Department several months ago, the matter of the travel tax and the individual trip visas. Under the new agreement, a "tourist card" good for two years is available for a nominal fee and it can be used for as many times as desired. The one per cent fare-tax is eliminated.

Atomic Fellowship Is Awarded to John Perry Mickel

John Perry Mickel, son of Mayor and Mrs. Perry Mickel of Wilton Manors, has been awarded a fellowship by the United States Atomic Energy Commission, it was disclosed this week.

Young Mickel is now attending Michigan State College where he is studying for his doctor's degree in physics.

Mayor and Mrs. Mickel left this week for Michigan where they will spend two weeks vacation with their son.

After completing academic training, young Mickel will work with the Atomic Energy Commission.

THIS AND THAT

From Here and There

Our congratulations to Circuit Court Clerk Ted Cabot, who recently was sworn in as a member of the Bar after graduating from the University of Miami Law School. Ted, who studied nights for several long years to qualify himself as an attorney, certainly is one of the finest and most conscientious public officials we've ever had in Broward County. And he has been honored as such many times.

Oakland Park Baptist Church just completed a two-week summer Bible school with a whopping enrollment of more than 100. The Rev. Terry Thorpe directed the vacation Bible School, assisted by a large corps of teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Soukup, 4616 N. Andrews Ave., North Andrews Gardens, joined the Stork Club recently. Mrs. Soukup gave birth to a son at Broward General Hospital, Ft. Lauderdale.

Newlywed residents of Wilton Manors are Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Siefker, who returned from their Michigan wedding trip to take up residence at 20 NE 24th Street. Mrs. Siefker is the former Mary Lou Redmond of Springfield, O., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Redmond of Springfield. Welcome home to them!

All the high moguls of the C. B. Maxson firm in Oakland Park seem to be heading for the wide-open spaces this summer, out where it's even hotter! The C. B. Maxsons themselves left just recently for Carnegie, Okla., for several weeks, and Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Cahill and their family just returned from a month's stay with members of the family at Reno, Okla.

Mrs. Clarendon Is Guest Of Mrs. Walter Ryan

Mrs. Cameron Clarendon of Washington D. C. is visiting in Wilton Manors as guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Ryan.

The Ryan residence is at 712 NE 21st Place.

Heavy Agenda Faces Manors Council After Full Month Without a Meeting

A big list of matters needing attention will be faced by Wilton Manors city councilmen next Tuesday night—providing it is possible to scare up three members of the council to make possible some action on problems hanging fire. It is known already that at least two members cannot be present. And that leaves only three. Tuesday night's session, if it goes off, will be the regular monthly meeting of the council.

Did You Know, Gals?

By Barbara

That Nancy's Dress Shoppe on Wilton Drive are expanding their shop this summer to serve you better? Nancy and Ralph Johnson, mighty nice people, are just getting started on the job. They aren't closing, however. It's business as usual!

Turner Supply, Broward County's most popular lawn and garden suppliers, are moving into their beautiful new store building in Wilton Manors next week. Bill Turner and his fine staff can show you how to turn your duster into a garden-spot!

Paul Smith, the shoe expert, just opened a new repair-and-sales shop in Oakland Park, at 359 North Dixie. Get Paul to show you those custom-made sandals he can provide you with.

Manor Market, always expanding, is now handling refrigerators, freezers and so forth in addition to everything else!

You'll find a trip to Tropical Club and Williams Pharmacy like a trip to Alaska as they complete their air conditioning installations. . . . trouble is you won't feel like leaving!

Here's something different. Mar-Len Toggery, the new Wilton Drive shop, gives you "Golden Arrow stamps" along with a book to keep them in. When the book is full of stamps, there's a $3 merchandise dividend waiting for you!

Civil Defense Meet Due Wednesday

Frank C. Ghiotto, Director of Broward County Civil Defense will put his directors through a question and answer session next Wednesday night, July 15, it was announced this week.

Scheduled for 7:45 p. m. in the County Commissioners' room of the Court House in Ft. Lauderdale, this meeting is to test alertness of each Civil Defense department in the case of a surprise alert, whether by hurricane disaster or a surprise bombing.

"Any emergency will require on-the-toes readiness", Ghiotto said. The City of Ft. Lauderdale has been marked with disaster areas extending out into the county. Emergency transportation, rescue and engineering, medical aid, fire and police protection must work with clock-like precision, Ghiotto said, to minimize death rate during atomic warfare. The Civil Defense machine also is of immeasurable aid in times of hurricane destruction, he added.

Usually, a special meeting or two will pop up during the month to handle matters needing quick attention. This month there have been none, with many city officials away on business or vacation.

Some of the problems and projects due for discussion Tuesday would include storm drainage for Wilton Drive; street repairs necessitated by recent heavy rains; plans for the new City Hall; enforcement of sign ordinances; water for residences west of Andrews Ave.; and others.

Council President Earle Middleton has been ill and is now out of town, but is expected back in time for Tuesday's meeting.

Councilman Earl Gurney is in the north. Councilman J. Frank Starling has been out of town, but has returned. Councilman James C. Dean, who just returned from a trip, reportedly will be unable to attend Tuesday's meeting.

If Gurney and Dean are absent, only Middleton, Starling, and J. Marvin Brown will be on hand.

City Attorney William G. Miller Jr. has been in New York on business, but Miller returned home just before press time.

July Card Parties Break Summer Lull

The latest in a series of summer card parties for members of the Wilton Manors Womans Club and their guests was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Tamburrino, 415 NE 25th Street.

A large number of members and friends have been attending the afternoon parties, keeping the club members actively together and furnishing pleasant entertainment for warm days.

Attending Mrs. Tamburrino's party were Mrs. Clayton R. Leaver, president of the club, Mrs. H. C. Cain, Mrs. John Mullock, Mrs. Tamburrino, Mrs. Matthew Mattmuller, Mrs. George A. Merton, Mrs. W. J. Robinson, Mrs. Orley M. Dunton, Mrs. Charles A. Saker, Mrs. E. W. McGuire Jr, Mrs. Ethel Gallup, Mrs. W. W. Brown and Mrs. Z. H. Pilcher Sr.

Next in the series of weekly get-togethers will be held at the home of Mrs. Leaver, 2019 NE Third Terrace, at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, July 16, with Mrs. Harold Cain as co-hostess.

Members who wish to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Leaver or Mrs. Cain in advance.

Cards On the Table

Like many another small, growing business, your community newspaper has plenty of problems. And during our Florida summer, Problem Number One is How To Break Even Financially.

Advertising revenues go down sharply because the advertiser's business drops in most lines of endeavor.

If your newspaper, The Sun, fell into the category of the gift shop, the motel, or the night club, we would do the sensible thing: close up shop when we're losing money, open again when business picks up.

But we are operating a community service to the people of Wilton Manors and Oakland Park, as well as a profit-making (we hope) enterprise. So we can't close up and go to the mountains, to wait for "The Season".

We will be right here, reporting your local news for you; watching the actions of your officials; tipping you off if they try to tax your eyeballs out of their sockets; showing you in our ad columns where you may get better goods and services, at reasonable prices; and using the influence a newspaper has to push for improvements, like better streets, better laws, better water, better planning—in short, for a better community.

In turn, we need your $2 subscriptions, our only revenue source other than advertising.

At $2 a year, your community paper, mailed to you weekly, costs you little more than 3½¢ per week.

There are the cards on the table.

The Sun needs you. We believe you need the services this community newspaper provides.

Every subscription is vitally helpful in maintaining that service.

You may order by phone, 3-7831 or 3-3908. We'll bill you.

How about it, neighbor?

"FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY"

Sold Across the Crick

In all the years we've been trying to get traffic relief in this county, the two howls most often heard have been "CRAMMED DOWN OUR THROATS!" and "SOLD DOWN THE RIVER!"

These terrifying cries have been heard periodically from first one selfish bunch, then another, then still another, each time it appeared some plan finally might be decided upon.

The loudest herd has been the anti-tunnel herd, which now has become largely the anti-toll herd since the Las Olas tunnel was scrapped. Chief Bawler in this stampede has been the widely-publicized Mrs. _____ (we don't mention her name because she might like it).

These deluded people think this county will dry right up, that tourists won't pay here the tolls they are firmly accustomed to paying at home.

So, Great Scott, what is the latest solution?

Why, it is an ad valorem tax which they propose. Let property owners pay the whole cockeyed bill and the users of the facilities pay nothing.

Why doesn't the Ft. Lauderdale Daily Snooze tackle THAT one?

Too Late to Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

According to my good friend Ralph Blank, manager of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board, Florida, and particularly Palm Beach County, is receiving some mighty valuable nationwide publicity in connection with a retirement project known as "Neighborhood Village". On June 11, in convention assembled the Upholsterers International Union, with a membership of 55,000, ratified a retirement plan for members which calls for the construction of some 500 residential units and self-contained villages on a tract located in Palm Beach County, between the Dixie Highway and Inter-Coastal Waterway in the vicinity of famed Jupiter Light.

Action of the Union climaxes six months of intensive effort on the part of the Palm Beach Board, the Florida State Improvement Commission and the Florida State Advertising Commission to bring this significant development to Florida. It is believed that this is only a forerunner of other similar retirement projects of unions now watching the move with genuine interest.

Hal Leyshon of Hal Leyshon and Associates, New York public relations firm handling publicity for the Florida State Advertising Commission, reports that a half column story about the project recently appeared on the front page of the New York Times and that Business Week Magazine and the Readers Digest have scheduled stories, while Dodge Reports has covered the story in detail and the labor press of the nation is giving it a good play.

The large tract of land on which the village will rise has already been purchased and plans are going ahead for early construction of homes and buildings. The Union Social Security Department will construct and operate a convalescent and nursing home for insured members and lease other facilities for operation by the Union.

It is significant that this enlightened trade union selected Florida as the site for its retirement village after thought and careful consideration of numerous desirable locations and that the membership approved the choice at its convention.

Careful surveys of Union member's needs and preferences were made before the decision was reached, and Mr. Blank pays high compliments to the State Improvement Commission for its splendid help in providing data and information and the Advertising Commission for supplying authentic information concerning the advantages that Florida offers the home-seeker and investor.

No state has more to offer from the standpoint of retirement living. It is only recently that our state agencies have given full consideration to the opportunities that exist to attract such people to Florida.

"Neighborhood Village" will continue to receive nationwide publicity, and officials of other Unions and organizations will keep close watch on its progress with the view of developing similar projects in this state. It will serve as a sort of pilot plant from which will be built other and more extensive developments.

The vision of a modest, comfortable home in Florida among congenial friends and neighbors, gives the Union members something to look forward to. It should make for better labor relations, and industrial leaders should heartily approve such plans and encourage employees to plan and work for such future security.

I compliment the Upholsters International Union on its wise choice of a retirement development location and Palm Beach County on being chosen for such a worthy enterprise. Floridians should cooperate by welcoming these newcomers and extending all possible help and advice to these worthwhile new neighbors.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Official Washington is concerned over the wave of pessimism that swept nation with Korean peace talks. The spread of the idea that peace means a depression, can, officials say, talk the nation into depression. * * *

A counter-propaganda program is discussed, but so far no one seems in agreement as to the direction it should take. * * *

The probable truth is that there is no agreement on the measures needed to C. W. Harder maintain a healthy economy. * * *

Actually, the United States should be entering into an era of even higher prosperity than at any time in the past. That is the opinion of many economists. * * *

This school of thought points to the fact that home ownership in the United States is at an all time high. And it is well known that far more money in repairs, remodeling, in fact for everything from lawn seed to pianos is spent on owner-occupied homes than on rental homes. Economists also point to high auto ownership whose servicing produces a huge business volume. * * *

Neither do they feel that the U. S. is consuming anywhere near the goods and services that it can. Even during a year of so-called Korea prosperity, almost one-third of the nation's families have incomes of less than $2,000 per year, over 60% of the families have incomes of less than $4,000 per year. There is still a great market to be developed by increasing the average annual family income. * * *

What, then, the question is asked, creates the fear that without war, or preparation for war, the U. S. economy will collapse? * * *

The answer is that too much of the business is controlled by monopoly practices, by manufacturer owned retail outlets, by business practices which deprive independent business, the major furnisher of employment in the nation, from expanding. * * *

Many in government still believe that a major plant expansion of $2 billion per year, as was evidenced during the Korean war, furnishes prosperity. Yet, the expansion of a few huge industrial plants is but a drop in the bucket to the expenditures that could be made by the building of new independent stores, factories, and the remodeling of existing establishments. * * *

However, with the control of business falling into fewer and fewer hands due to cutthroat competitive tactics, employment producing independent enterprises either fall by the wayside, or die aborning. * * *

At the same time, pessimists, and those seeking rigid controls over the economy, cry that measures must be taken to stop inflation before the economy collapses. * * *

Yet government itself has fashioned the backbone of inflation through taxation. Last year the nation spent $81 billion on food and clothing; but Federal, state, and local taxes cost the public $84.6 billion. There can be no assured prosperity when taxes take more of the people's income than food and clothing. * * *

Many panaceas are advanced. * * *

Yet many in Washington feel no solution is possible until enforcement of anti-trust laws eliminates price fixing competition and taxes are cut. There has never been any substitute for a completely free and open economy in producing prosperity. * * *

Charles Horns Entertain Guests From Wisconsin
Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Horn, 435 NE 25th Street, Wilton Manors, have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. McFarlin and children, David and Kathleen.
The McFarlins live in Milwaukee, Wis., former home of Mr. and Mrs. Horn.

A porpoise understudy to the famous Flippy, the educated porpoise at Marine Studios, Marine-land, has been named "Splash" by Lowell Thomas. The young porpoise earned his name by dousing the famous radio commentator with a well-aimed flip of his tail.
During its first year, a baby porpoise depends entirely on its mother's milk for food.

He shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday. (Psalm 37:6.) Read Romans 6:8-13.

It had been a hard day's drive through the Sacramento Valley in California. Our baby was restless with weariness. We were anxious to reach our destination. The winter sun had set behind the coast range, and the valley was wrapped in gray. Suddenly we were enveloped by a strange, rose-tinted light from the east. Its source was Mount Shasta whose snow-clad heights were reflecting the light from the sun, which we could no longer see. A scene of unusual beauty, it lifted our spirits. The baby, his gaze fixed on the shining mountain, became quiet and relaxed in my arms.

A Christian is like the mountain reflecting the love of God. Towering above his surroundings, his love reflects the glory of God. His Christlike love sheds a glow which brings peace to the restless, encouragement to the downcast, rest to the weary, and makes brighter the world about him.

PRAYER

Our Father in heaven, cleanse our hearts of all impurity. Help us to reflect Thy love to others to those in our home, our school, in our place of business, in our church. Use us to reflect Thy light, that others may glorify Thee. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
