17-year-old Ronald Thomas Gets Trip-of-a-Lifetime To Switzerland

EDITOR'S NOTE—As an outstanding Civil Air Patrol cadet, 17-year-old Ronald Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas, 2513 NE Eighth Ave., Wilton Manors, was awarded this year a trip to Europe in the annual International Exchange between this nation and several others. Ronald just returned after a month-long journey and The Sun asked him to jot down an outline of his exciting trip for our readers.

By Ronald Thomas

On July 18, I went by car to West Palm Beach Air Force Base where I boarded a plane with other members of my Civil Air Patrol squadron. Our flight was to Tampa, where the annual CAP encampment was to be held. There I met the four other boys from Florida who were on the International Exchange list for 1953. They were to go to Italy, Greece and Canada, all countries participating in this Exchange.

The following morning we flew to Washington, where we stayed for four days. In Washington we met the other boys and the senior escort officers who were to travel with us.

While in Washington we were briefed on our trip and given a tour of the city. Most of the cadets met President Eisenhower. However, at that time I was making a recording with Sen. Spessard Holland of Florida, whom I enjoyed and was honored to meet.

On July 23 we departed from Washington aboard an Air Force C-118 and flew to the Azores. After a two hour layover there, we continued on to Frankfurt, Germany, where we spent the night. The next morning we took a short flight to Zurich, Switzerland where we were greeted by the mayor and the president of the Swiss Aero Club.

The first part of our stay in Switzerland was occupied with flying gliders and having parties. As guests of the Swiss government and the Swiss Aero Club we stayed in the finest hotels and ate the best food. We were treated like kings everywhere we went.

The second part of our trip was spent sight-seeing in the mountains and in the Swiss capital where we met the Vice President of Switzerland.

One of the most interesting places we visited was Lenzburg Castle, home of the late Lincoln Ellsworth, the great naval explorer. We were—believe it or not—the first outside visitors to Lenzburg Castle in about 80 years.

Mrs. Ellsworth lives there now, but no one visits the Castle except her friends.

It is supposed to be the largest and most valuable castle in Switzerland. It is full of suits of armor and other such museum-type furnishings.

The castle originally belonged

Voters To Change Precinct Numbers

Mrs. Easter L. Gates, Broward County Supervisor of Registration issued the following notice this week to Wilton Manors voters:

Dear Voter:
Since it was necessary to divide the precincts of the County, making thirteen new ones, it has necessitated other changes. Your precinct number has been changed from 5A to 7, and I will ask that you change the number in the upper righthand corner of your registration card. You will vote at the Civic Hall in Wilton Manor.

Will you please use the enclosed card to tell me your correct address, your street address and the legal description of your property? With a permanent registration such as our county has, this is necessary in order to keep my books up to date.

It is my earnest desire to serve the voters of Broward County to the best of my ability.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely,

Vacation Time For Oakland Park Mayor

Mayor and Mrs. J. D. Hawkins are due to leave this weekend for a vacation trip to North Carolina. Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Winton Hollingsworth, Mayor and Mrs. Hawkins will occupy a house they have taken west of Waynesville, N. C.

They are expected to return in "two or three weeks."

Strong Support Seen For Plan To Give Wilton Manors Swimming Pool

Powerful public support was indicated this week for a proposal to construct one of South Florida's finest swimming pools as the beginning for a city recreation program in Wilton Manors. Officials told The Sun they have been hearing a great deal of favorable comment and little or none that could be called unfavorable. The proposal was first revealed in The Sun last week, when it was disclosed that a revenue bond issue might be arranged that would permit the swimming pool to pay for itself and for additional recreational facilities, such as tennis courts, as well.

One city official commented, however, that it might be necessary to find an additional guarantee of payment on the bonds to satisfy prospective bond buyers.

And the city already is rather heavily committed on its water system bonds which totaled $110,000 when issued.

Idea for the pool project was first advanced by Wilton Manors residents, noting with some degree of alarm that youngsters have absolutely no place to go and almost nothing to do during their leisure hours. Nearest public swimming pool is the Ft. Lauderdale municipal casino at the beach.

There are no public tennis courts nearby. The baseball diamond on

Businessmen's Dinner Is A Success But Principal Speaker Was "All Wet"

By Carter Holmes

More than three score Wilton Manors business and professional men and women and their guests attended a rally and dinner meeting of the Wilton Manors Business and Professional Association at the Tropical Club Wednesday night. "A fine success," enthused the association's business manager Cliff Nerber. Some three dozen became charter members of the association at the dinner, to form the nucleus of what Nerber declared promises to be "a wide-awake group that will get and keep business in this city."

Longer Bar Hours May Be Approved For Oakland Park

Oakland Park city councilmen may decide to extend closing hours for the city's alcoholic beverage dealers to conform with the hours observed in other communities in this area.

There were signs this week that such a move may come about as council members discussed a proposal to amend the present laws governing hours for liquor sales.

Councilman Richard Marthens made the suggestion, which was taken under advisement during an unusually short council meeting Wednesday night.

Closing time for bars in both Wilton Manors and Fort Lauderdale now is 2 a.m. on week nights, while Oakland Park bar owners must close at 1 a.m. Marthens told The Sun this week he sees "no reason why Oakland Park business people should have to send their business elsewhere at 1 a.m. nightly" when liquor establishments are open only a few hundred yards to the south and a few miles to the north.

Larry Hope, Palm Beach night club entertainer, acted as singing master of ceremonies and Hope regaled the audience with his hypnotic abilities by hypnotizing two of their number, Judy Storm and Al Walker.

The principal speaker was Robert LeFevre, news director of WFTL-TV, Ft. Lauderdale. Subject of his address was "Should We Go It Alone?"

LeFevre thought we should. His contention seemed to be that this country can and ought to isolate itself completely from the rest of the nations on the globe and have nothing to do with international "entanglements" or groups.

He said he has been studying international affairs "deeply for years." LeFevre listed a long series of crises between nations of the world over the last couple of hundred years and asserted that each of them could have resulted in world war.

Actually, transportation and communication were so slow up until the 20th century that a "world war" as we know it would have been unthinkable and just about unfightable prior to the modern advances in those fields.

LeFevre darkly pointed to changes in U. S. foreign policy since 1910 and warned that the U. S. "has gotten on the wrong track."

The changes in policy to which he referred have followed directly with the advances in transportation and communication, and, it seems to me, have been necessary changes to fit changing facts of international life.

As LeFevre pointed out, when

Bids On Water System Will Be Opened Monday

A special meeting of the Oakland Park City Council has been set for 8 p.m. next Monday when bids will be opened for expanding the municipal water system.

Engineers have been working for several months preparing to advertise for additions to the present system, which has been working at near-capacity for some time.

Rapidly increasing demand for service inside Oakland Park and to Wilton Manors and several new subdivisions in the area made the expansion necessary.

Mayor Dewey Hawkins will not be present at Monday's meeting. He and Mrs. Hawkins will be away on vacation.

"FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY"

A New Bank For Wilton Manors?

Reports were being circulated this week that a group of people seek to have a new banking institution established in Wilton Manors.

The names of members of the group could not be confirmed at once, however. Nevertheless, several prominent persons acknowledged that they had had strong rumors of such a move.

A Fort Lauderdale bank once entertained plans for a bank here, but the proposal never was carried out by that group.

The developers of Middle River Estates last week revealed plans for a $4,500,000 shopping center east of the FEC railway which would include scores of stores and a 10-story office building. The center would include quarters designed to be occupied by a bank.

Completion of the project would take from five to seven years, it was estimated. Developers indicated, though, that the first phases of the center may be expected to be started in the near future.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Socialistic waste. That's what Congressman Ralph Gwinn of New York terms the Tennessee Valley Authority, or TVA.

But many hold whether or not TVA is waste by socialism, blunt business standards condemn it.

Government needs to reduce both public indebtedness and taxes. While no one seems to know just how much has been poured into TVA, there are strong feelings C. W. Harder that government could realize $27 billion by selling TVA to private operators, could save $500 million per year on bond interest, other costs.

In mid-thirties TVA was started to provide irrigation, power, and to control floods, although Army Engineers claim the Tennessee Valley will not flood more than once every 500 years.

The efficiency of TVA as a source of hydro-electric energy is held open to question, too. Congress is asked to build a total of 9 steam generating plants, presumably to meet greater needs for electricity.

There is evidence in Washington that administration may come to grips with the TVA question in order to justify its billing as a businessmen's administration. But there are many smoke screens of emotion and false premises to cut through.

Besides the cry of Socialism, there is the argument that the tax free TVA doesn't pay the taxes of private utilities.

This last argument is probably a half-truth as there is considerable doubt any utility pays taxes out of profits, but instead adds them to consumer rates. Recently, the Pacific Gas & Electric, one of the nation's biggest utilities, told stockholders no rate increases are planned, unless taxes are increased, thus admitting that unlike individuals and small businesses, taxes do not come out of profits, but out of the customers. This situation could be remedied, however.

© National Federation of Independent Business

The big point is that the P G & E is located in California with more irrigated acreage than rest of U. S. And business deals have been worked out in California which if applied in the Tennessee Valley 20 years ago would have kept the government out of the power business.

A group of farmers needed a dam in the nearby Sierras for irrigation water. The dam is owned by the farmers' organization, but the power house is owned by the utility. And in exchange for permitting the water to run through their generators, the utility company pays off the dam's bonded indebtedness by semi-annual payments.

When TVA was started, it was necessary for the government to drive out of business 17 different private utility companies. A deal similar to the above would have given area even greater benefits without permitting bureaucrats to waste millions.

Many plans have been drafted for turning TVA over to free enterprise in a manner that will not result in merely changing from government monopoly to private monopoly. But Washington has given no authority to solve TVA question on basis of sound business and under a free enterprise system to reduce national debt by $27 billion, save at least half billion yearly.

Myra Grantland will have the program. Mrs. A. B. Grantland will lead the Devotional. After the program, the women will enjoy a covered-dish luncheon.

Businessmen's Dinner Is A Success

The early settlers of this country came here, they were separated from the Old World by "an eternity", as he phrased it.

He neglected to add that this "eternity" is now about nine hours by jet plane.

If it were possible for this country to cut itself off from the problems of the rest of the world, I would be for it. But it is not possible, notwithstanding the statements of LeFevre, who was introduced as "commentator extraordinary."

LeFevre told his audience that the definitions of the words "isolation" and "independence" are practically one and the same; that "isolated" means "independent" and that "independent" means "isolated".

He is all wet.

My dictionary, which has 1,956 pages and is probably about as heavy as the one LeFevre uses, gives the definitions as follows:

INDEPENDENT—Not dependent; not relying on others; not subject to the control of others; not subordinate.

ISOLATE—To set aside; to place apart; to insulate.

I can see no similarity between the meanings of those two words.

It's a damn good thing for us that the U. S. has good contacts throughout the world to help us keep track of people like Nazis.

Fascists and Communists who would like to hand us a fatal sneak punch.

While LeFevre was speaking, the Russians were announcing the explosion of their first H-bomb. LeFevre didn't hear it go off.

the Wilton Manors Elementary School grounds is about the only place of recreation within the city limits.

Financing is not the only problem to be faced.

A location also would have to be found, and one that could be obtained at a reasonable price.

But most officials seemed to feel the problems are not insurmountable by any means.

"Where there's a will, there's a way," appeared to be the feeling.

If the public should take wholehearted advantage of the proposed swimming plant, it might produce enough revenue to support many municipal improvements, it was suggested.

A year-around recreation program for youngsters and adults alike could result, and a well-lighted swimming park could be the source of great satisfaction on warm nights.
